PRIVACY NOTICE FOR PUPILS, PARENTS AND CARERS

This notice is based on the Department for Education's model privacy notice for pupils. Please read this in conjunction with our Data Protection Policy.

Introduction

Under data protection law, individuals have a right to be informed about how the school uses any personal data that we hold about them. We comply with this right by providing 'privacy notices' (sometimes called 'fair processing notices') to individuals where we are processing their personal data. This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal data about pupils. We, St Anne's CE Primary School, are the 'data controller' for the purposes of data protection law. Our Trust data protection officer is Mr Peter Shaw.

Personal Data Held

Personal data that we may collect, use, store and share (when appropriate) about pupils includes, but is not restricted to:

- contact details and contact preferences
- date of birth and gender
- identification documents
- characteristics such as ethnic background, eligibility for free school meals or special educational needs
- details of any medical conditions, including physical and mental health
- attendance information
- safeguarding information
- pupil and curricular records
- results of internal assessments and externally set tests
- details of any support received including care packages, plans and support providers
- exclusion information
- photographs

We may also hold data about pupils that we have received from other organisations including other schools, local authorities and the Department for Education.

Data Use

We use this data to:

- support pupil learning
- monitor and report on pupil progress
- provide appropriate pastoral care
- protect pupil welfare
- assess the quality of our services
- administer admissions waiting lists
- carry out research
- comply with the law regarding data sharing.

Lawful basis for Data Use

We only collect and use pupils' personal data when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we process it where:

- we need it to perform an official task in the public interest
- we need to comply with a legal obligation.

Less commonly, we may also process pupils' personal data in situations where:

- we have obtained consent to use it in a certain way
- we need to protect the individual's vital interests (or someone else's interests).

Where we have obtained consent to use pupils' personal data, this consent can be withdrawn at any time. We will make this clear when we ask for consent and explain how consent can be withdrawn.

Some of the reasons listed above for collecting and using pupils' personal data overlap, and there may be several grounds that justify our use of this data.

Collecting the Information

While the majority of information we collect about pupils is mandatory, there is some information that can be provided voluntarily. Whenever we seek to collect information from you or your child, we make it clear whether providing it is mandatory or optional. If it is mandatory, we will explain the possible consequences of not complying.

Data Storage

We keep personal information about pupils while they are attending our school. We may also keep it beyond their attendance at our school if this is necessary in order to comply with our legal obligations. Our Retaining Records Policy (available on our website and on request) sets out how long we keep information about pupils.

Data Sharing

We do not share information about pupils with any third party without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so. Where it is legally required, or necessary (and it complies with data protection law) we may share personal information about pupils with:

- our local authority – to meet our legal obligations to share certain information with it, such as safeguarding concerns and exclusions
- the Department for Education
- the pupils' family or representatives
- educators and examining bodies
- our regulator, Ofsted
- suppliers and service providers – to enable them to provide the service we have contracted them for
- financial organisations
- central and local government
- our auditors
- survey and research organisations
- health authorities
- security organisations
- health and social welfare organisations
- professional advisers and consultants

The National Pupil Database (NPD)

We are required to provide information about pupils to the Department for Education as part of statutory data collections such as the school census. Some of this information is then stored in the National Pupil Database (NPD), which is owned and managed by the Department and provides evidence on school performance to inform research. The database is held electronically so it can easily be turned into statistics. The information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and exam boards.

The Department for Education may share information from the NPD with other organisations that promote children's education or wellbeing in England. Such organisations must agree to strict terms and conditions about how they will use the data. For more information, see the Department for Education's webpage on how it collects and shares research data. You can also contact the Department for Education with any further questions about the NPD.

Transferring Data Internationally

Where we transfer personal data to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area, we will do so in accordance with data protection law.

Parents and Pupils' Rights Regarding Personal Data

Individuals have a right to make a 'subject access request' to gain access to personal information that the school holds about them. Parents/carers can make a request with respect to their child's data where the child is not considered mature enough to understand their rights over their own data (usually under the age of 12), or where the child has provided consent.

Parents also have the right to make a 'subject access request' with respect to any personal data the school holds about them. Individuals may also ask for their personal information to be transmitted electronically to another organisation in certain circumstances.

Further information is set out within our data protection policy. If you would like to make a request please contact our school data protection officer, as set out in the data protection policy.

Other Rights

Under data protection law, individuals have certain rights regarding how their personal data is used and kept safe, including the right to:

- object to the use of personal data if it would cause, or is causing, damage or distress
- prevent it being used to send direct marketing
- object to decisions being taken by automated means (by a computer or machine, rather than by a person)
- in certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data corrected, deleted or destroyed, or restrict processing

- To exercise any of these rights, please contact our school data protection officer, as set out in the data protection policy.

Complaints
